Presently in the process of incorporating in Houston is Pan Koam of Texas, an affiliate of Pan Koam of California, both of which are a South Korean conglomerate business venture into the United States. Representatives of the firms, shown above right to left, are Dr. David Park, president of Pan Koam Corp. in California and professor of economics at California State University; Young Bok Han, chairman of the board of directors of Kong Sin Yang Haeng, Ltd., Seoul, Korea, and president of Yeong Kwang Textile Co. in Pusan, Korea; and Yu Sang Kim, general manager of Pan Koam of Texas, Houston. Han and Dr. Park have interests in many other Korean business operations and serve as U. S. representatives for their manifold products, a few of which they display here. The Korean conglomerate which they represent is also seeking investments in South Korean industries and trading opportunities.

Andre-Dumont Is Named Director

Andre Andre-Dumont, chief executive officer and a director of Armement Deppe of Antwerp, has been elected a director of Agence Maritime Internationale, S.A., according to Hansen & Tidemann, Inc., Gulf agent of the Belgian steamship company which is one of Belgium's oldest and most important.

Mr. Andre-Dumont was born in Brussels, Belgium, in 1915, and was educated at the Royal Military College of Belgium. During World War II, he served as an artillery officer. He resigned from the army to join the managing agency of Belgium's most important steamship line, Compagnie Maritime Belge, S.A., also known as the Belgian Line. In 1948, he was sent by the Belgian Line to New York where he was appointed a vice president of their New York agency.

In 1960, he was elected by the board of directors of Armement Deppe to the post of general manager of Deppe Line, Belgium's oldest steamship line. Under his management, the line was reorganized and new vessels were put into service.

Mr. Andre-Dumont is also a director of Sybetra and the Andre-Dumont coal mines.

The M/V PIERO FOSCARO of the Sidarma Line, home office Venice, Italy, made her first voyage to the Port of Houston recently and was presented the traditional maiden voyage plaque of a laminated aerial photo of the Turning Basin. Making the presentation were Frank Stephens, left, and Porter Everts, right, of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, to Capt. Enrico Grilz. George Biehl of Biehl & Co., ship's agents, was on hand to view the ceremony.

Captain M. M. Tare of the VISHVA TIRTH is shown receiving his commemorative plaque for the recent maiden voyage of his vessel from Junior Chamber of Commerce representative Leonard Rosow. Witnessing the presentation is Don Kirkpatrick, manager of Norton-Lily Co., Inc., steamship agents for the freighter. The maiden voyage plaque is given jointly to the captain of each ship making its first trip to the Port of Houston by the Navigation District and the International Relations Committee of the Houston Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Two rare white rhinoceroses, male and female, destined for the Fort Worth, Texas, Zoo, were discharged at the Port of Houston last month from the Lykes Line vessel REUBEN TIPTON. Here, the first mate, John S. McDonnell of Mobile, Alabama, bids the female, Malapuli ("Pole Remover" in Zulu), goodbye after the two animals were unloaded at Houston's Long Reach Docks. The animals, each approximately one year old and nearing 1,000 pounds, are still babies and are milk-fed. Malapuli, along with Mnumzaan (meaning "Chief"), are part of a breed of which only an estimated 2,000 are left in Africa. Orphans, they came from the Umfolozi Game Reserve in Zululand and were shipped through Durban, South Africa. M. G. Maher Co., Inc. were the freight forwarders.

The M. V. KOORINGA

Kooringa 'Wins' Title As First Container Ship

Back in March the Port of Houston MAGAZINE ran a photograph of the British flag, German-built (1965) M.V. LA BONITA, identifying the 972 ton vessel as "the first vessel designed and built as a container ship."

Now, from Associated Steamships Pty., Ltd., in Melbourne, Australia, comes word that their M.V. KOORINGA "was designed and built as a container ship, commissioned in May, 1964, and, to the best of our knowledge, the first pure container ship designed and built in the world."

J. A. McMeekin, marketing manager for Associated Steamship, says the 6,750 ton KOORINGA is capable of handling up to 10,000 tons of cargo in 36 hours and can load and discharge simultaneously.

The ship is in the Fremantle-Melbourne trade while LA BONITA sails from the Gulf to Central America's East Coast.

We are happy to publish a photograph of the KOORINGA and, despite our apparent error, are flattered that the Port of Houston MAGAZINE is so closely read by such far-flung readers as our good friends from "down under."

Officials of Lykes Bros. Steamship Co., Inc., of New Orleans, revealed details of a $20 million program calling for reconstruction of nine of its relatively new general cargo transports to provide U. S. Gulf Ports with regularly scheduled, fast ships having adequate stowage for containers and increased break-bulk cargo space.

The plan calls for jumboizing nine of the 21 ships of the Lykes Gulf Pride Class by adding a mid-body section 97 feet long, thus increasing the cubic cargo capacity of each ship by 40 per cent, and the deadweight capacity by 30 per cent. The new "Jumbo Prides" would add in excess of 2 million cubic feet of cargo space, or the equivalent of three new ships, to the Lykes Lines fleet.

One of seven swamp buggies, together with other geophysical equipment manufactured in Houston by the Carey Manufacturing Company, was loaded aboard the M/V MANSEER of Cunard-Brocklebank, Ltd., last month at the Port of Houston enroute to Durban, South Africa. Observing the loading were traffic representatives Richard P. Akkerman, left, and Lee R. Cedars of Texas Transport & Terminal Co., Inc., ship's agents. The equipment was shipped by United Geophysical of Pasadena, California, and forwarded by Harper-Robinson & Co. of Houston, an affiliate of the Harper Group of San Francisco.

A 119,000 pound cone crusher, built by Nordberg Manufacturing Company in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, was shipped through the Port of Houston recently by Wright Engineers Limited of Vancouver, Canada, to Mina Matilde Corporation, Matarani, Peru. A component part of the device is shown being loaded aboard the M. V. ALK, J. M. Cook Company, agent. Forwarding was handled by H. E. Schurig and Company, Inc.

Safmarine Names Liaison Officer

Frank Clair Williams has been named manager of distribution services for Gulf Atlantic Distribution Services in Houston and assumed responsibility for the development and installation of customer-oriented freight consolidated programs at selected Gulf Atlantic locations. Formerly executive vice president of Service Warehouse Corp. in Huntington, West Virginia, he is a graduate of the University of Tennessee with a degree in transportation. Williams began his career as a traffic analyst with Procter and Gamble, later becoming traffic and distribution manager and corporate distribution manager, both positions with Armour Grocery Products Co. Gulf Atlantic operates 21 warehouses in 16 cities and nine states.

S. J. Chang is the representative of the Korea Shipping Corp., Ltd., and maintains an office in Houston's World Trade Building. Chang said that KSC has 25 modern vessels in the liner and tramp freighter fields. Five of these, in the corporation's Far East/New York Line, inaugurated in July, 1967, are making regular calls at the Port of Houston. In addition, KSC, whose major stockholder is the South Korean government, maintains a Korea/Japan/Siam Line and a Korea/Japan Line. The Far East/New York Line plans to add four new ships in the near future, two of which are now being built in Japan and which will join the service later this year. The New York Line maintains service from the major U. S. Atlantic and Gulf ports to those of Korea and Japan. Biehl & Co., Inc., is the U. S. Gulf agent.

Processing commodity shipments to Africa is an important part of the international banking service of Bank of the Southwest. In African market places, rice is usually sold by the handful—our Bank's international customers sell rice by the shipload. They need the total banking service provided by the southwest's largest international banking department, at Bank of the Southwest. Overseas banking services we offer you include purchase and sale of foreign exchange, expediting both payments to and collections from countries throughout the world, issuing commercial letters of credit for import and export of goods and delivering credit reports on foreign names. Wherever you do business, you'll appreciate the international outlook of the Bank That Serves You Best. BANK OF THE SOUTHWEST
